

7과 문화생활

Chapter 7 — Going out to see something

This chapter at a glance

어휘	Vocabulary 공연과 전시회 — shows and exhibitions
문법	Grammar 동-으라고 하다, 동형-냐고 하다 / 명만큼 — passing on an order or a question · saying two things are on a par
활동	Activities 공연 감상 소감 말하기, 공연 감상평 쓰기 — saying what you thought of a show; writing it up
문화와 정보	Culture & information 공연 정보를 찾는 방법 — how to find out what is on

This chapter finishes the reported-speech set. You already have -는다고 하다 for a statement and -자고 하다 for a suggestion; here you get -으라고 하다 for an order and -냐고 하다 for a question. Korean picks the ending by what kind of sentence was originally said, so once you know all four you can pass on anything you hear.

만큼 is the second point, and it is a comparison of equals — 'as much as', 'on a par with'. It is not the -보다 comparison you already know, which says one thing beats another. 만큼 says they are level.

Where is this person, and what are they looking at?

여러분은 시간이 있을 때 무엇을 보러 가고 싶어요?

When you have time, what would you like to go and see?

문화생활 is the chapter's frame word and has no tidy English equivalent. It covers everything you go out and see or hear for pleasure — concerts, plays, exhibitions, films. Korean treats it as a category of life, something you are supposed to make room for, which is why the title is 문화생활 and not simply 'entertainment'.

콘서트 — concert

케이팝(K-pop) 콘서트

a K-pop concert

재즈(Jazz) 콘서트

a jazz concert

토크 콘서트(강연)

a talk concert: a public talk run like a show

공연 and 콘서트 are not the same size of word. 공연 is the general term for anything staged and live, so a concert is one kind of 공연. 콘서트 is borrowed and means specifically a music gig. If you are unsure which to use, 공연 is always safe.

난타 and 사물놀이 are worth knowing by name rather than by translation. 사물놀이 is traditional: four percussion instruments, played seated or in procession. 난타 is a modern show built on the same rhythms but set in a kitchen, with knives and chopping boards — it is the show in the photograph on page 84, and it is the one tourists are usually taken to.

감동적이다

moving, it touched you

인상적이다

striking, it stayed with you

예매하다 is booking ahead — 예 is 'in advance'. Buying a ticket at the door on the day is 예매 no longer; that is just 표를 사다. Korean keeps the two apart, and every booking site you will use says 예매.

기대하다 and 기대되다 differ in who is doing the work. 기대하다 takes you as the subject: 저는 공연을 기대해요. 기대되다 takes the thing as the subject: 공연이 기대돼요. The second is far more common in speech and is what you will hear people actually say.

감동적이다 and 인상적이다 are both praise but not interchangeable. 감동적이다 is emotional — it moved you, perhaps to tears. 인상적이다 is about the impression left — vivid, memorable, striking. A sad scene is 감동적, a spectacular set is 인상적.

문법 1: 동-으라고 하다, 동형-냐고 하다

Grammar 1 — Reporting an order or a question

다른 사람에게서 들은 명령/질문의 내용을 전달할 때 사용한다.

Used to pass on an order or a question you heard from someone else.

방송 곧 공연이 시작됩니다. 가지고 계신 휴대 전화의 전원을 모두 꺼 주시기 바랍니다.

제이슨 곧 공연이 시작되니까 휴대 전화를 끄라고 했어요.
It said to switch off your phone, because the show is about to start.

가 한국 친구들이 처음 만나면 어떤 질문을 자주 해요?
What do Korean friends often ask when you first meet?

나 한국어를 얼마나 공부했냐고 해요.
They ask how long you have studied Korean.

친구가 저에게 케이팝을 좋아하냐고 했어요.
My friend asked me whether I like K-pop.

직원이 관객들에게 지금 공연장에 입장하라고 했어요.
A member of staff told the audience to go into the hall now.

How the forms are built

-으라고 하다	after a consonant 먹다 → 먹으라고 하다
-라고 하다	after a vowel or ㄹ 쓰다 → 쓰라고 하다
-냐고 하다	questions, any stem 읽다 → 읽냐고 하다 · 가다 → 가냐고 하다
ㄹ 탈락	stems ending in ㄹ 살다 → 사냐고 하다

Tip from the book: the negative of 동-으라고 하다 is 동-지 말라고 하다. Not 안 -으라고. So 'he told me not to take photographs' is 사진을 찍지 말라고 했어요.

-냐고 하다 attaches to verbs and adjectives alike, and it flattens every kind of question into one shape. Whether the original was 좋아해요? or 좋아합니까? or 좋아하니?, you report it as 좋아하냐고 했어요. The politeness of the original is not carried over.

하다 is not fixed. 했어요 is the plain report; 물어봤어요 makes it clearly a question asked; 그러셨어요 raises the respect for the person who spoke. The -고 part stays and only the final verb changes.

문법 2: 명만큼

Grammar 2 — Noun + 만큼

앞에 있는 명사와 비교할 때 그 정도가 비슷함을 나타낸다.

Shows that something is about the same as the noun in front of it.

라민 오늘 본 영화가 어땠어요?

How was the film you saw today?

아나이스 저번에 본 영화만큼 아주 재미있었어요.

It was every bit as good as the one we saw last time.

나 맞아요. 잘 찾아보면 무료 공연도 유료 공연만큼 좋은 게 많아요.

They are. If you look properly, plenty of free shows are as good as paid ones.

회사 앞 식당은 고향 음식만큼 맛있어서 자주 간다.

The place by the office is as good as food from home, so I go often.

평일은 주말만큼 시내에 사람이 많지 않다.

On weekdays town isn't as busy as it is at the weekend.

How it attaches

만큼

straight onto the noun

기대 → 기대만큼 · 이것 → 이것만큼

만큼 needs no particle before it and takes no 이/가 of its own. It sits directly on the noun, and the noun keeps whatever role it had. There is nothing to conjugate.

The comparison is one of equals, and this is what separates it from 보다. 서울보다 복잡해요 says one is worse than the other; 서울만큼 복잡해요 says they are level. Choose by whether you mean 'more than' or 'as much as'.

Negated, 만큼 becomes 'not as ... as': 주말만큼 사람이 많지 않다 — not as many people as at the weekend. The 만큼 itself does not change; the verb carries the negative.

연습 1 — 보기: build the exchange

질문 안젤라 씨가 노래를 잘하지요?

Angela sings well, doesn't she?

대답 네, 가수만큼 노래를 잘해요.

Yes, she sings as well as a professional singer.

1) 하노이 · 교통이 복잡하다 · 서울

Hanoi — traffic is heavy — Seoul

3) 미호 · 한국어가 유창하다 · 한국 사람

Miho — fluent in Korean — a Korean person

2) 기말시험 · 성적이 좋다 · 중간시험

the final exam — good marks — the mid-term

4) 떡볶이 · 자주 먹다 · 라면

tteokbokki — eat it often — ramyeon

한국에서 공연이나 전시회에 가 봤어요? 어땠어요? 친구들과 이야기해 보세요.

말하기

Speaking

라민 씨와 아나이스 씨가 공연에 대해 이야기합니다. 다음 대화처럼 이야기해 보세요.

Ramin and Anaïs are talking about a show. Practise a conversation like this one.

라민 오늘 본 연극 어땠어요?

How was the play today?

아나이스 저는 계속 웃다가 울다가 했어요.

I kept laughing and then crying, all the way through.

라민 어떤 장면이 가장 인상적이었어요?

Which scene struck you most?

아나이스 제일 마지막에 배우들이 모두 같이 춤추는 장면이 기억에 남아요.

The one at the very end, where all the actors dance together — that stayed with me.

라민 저는 배우들의 표정까지 다 볼 수 있어서 좋았어요.

I liked that you could see even the actors' expressions.

아나이스 맞아요. 저도 이번만큼 무대 가까이에서 연극을 본 적이 없어요.

True. I've never sat as close to the stage as this either.

라민 제 친구가 이 연극을 추천할 때 꼭 앞좌석에서 보라고 했거든요.

When my friend recommended this play, they told me to be sure to sit at the front.

아나이스 앞좌석은 정말 좋은 선택이었어요. 우리 또 공연 같이 봐요.

The front seats were a very good choice. Let's see another show together.

Swap in these sets

1) 인상적이다 · 배우들이 모두 같이 춤추다 · 앞좌석에서 보다

striking — all the actors dance together — watch from the front seats

2) 감동적이다 · 주인공이 헤어진 가족을 찾다 · 앞좌석에 앉다

moving — the lead finds the family they lost — sit in the front seats

웃다가 울다가 했어요 uses the -다가 you met in chapter 3, doubled. One -다가 is a switch mid-action; two in a row is alternation — laughing, then crying, then laughing again. It is a neat, very natural way to describe a show that swung between the two.

기억에 남다 is literally 'to remain in memory' and is the ordinary way to say something stuck with you. Note it takes 에, and that the thing remembered is the subject: 그 장면이 기억에 남아요.

이번만큼 in Anaïs's line is 만큼 doing real work. 이번만큼 무대 가까이에서 본 적이 없어요 — 'I have never watched from as close to the stage as this time'. Pairing 만큼 with a negative -은 적이 없다 is a common way to say 'this was the most ever'.

② 고천 씨는 친구에게 공연에 올 수 있냐고 물어볼 것이다.

Gocheon will ask a friend whether they can come.

③ 고천 씨는 이 공연을 본 적이 있다.

Gocheon has seen this show before.

Question ② is the chapter's grammar inside a listening task. 올 수 있냐고 물어볼 것이다 — 'will ask whether they can come'. Notice -냐고 attaches to 있다 as 있냐고, and that the reporting verb here is 물어보다 rather than 하다.

발음 — 경음화 after ㄱ, ㄷ, ㅂ

[ㄱ, ㄷ, ㅂ] + [ㄱ, ㄷ, ㅂ, ㅅ, ㅈ] → [ㄲ, ㄸ, ㅃ, ㅆ, ㅉ]

A ㄱ, ㄷ or ㅂ sound at the end of a syllable tenses the consonant that follows.

입장권

[입짱권]

both ㅈ and ㄱ tense, after ㅂ and after ㅇ

앞좌석

[압좌석]

앞 is pronounced 압, and the ㅈ tenses to ㅉ

택배

[택뻤]

ㅂ tenses to ㅃ after ㄱ

This is not an optional or careless pronunciation — it is compulsory, and Koreans are usually unaware they are doing it. You will never hear 택배 said with a plain ㅂ. Learning to hear the tensed consonant matters more than learning to produce it, because it changes what the word sounds like to you.

The rule is about sound, not spelling. 앞 ends in ㅍ on the page but is pronounced 압, and it is that 압 sound — a ㅂ-type stop — that triggers the tensing. Work from how the syllable actually ends, not from the letter.

4) 서울숲에서는 어떤 공연을 해요? 그 공연을 언제 볼 수 있어요?

What is on at Seoul Forest, and when can you see it?

展 in 고흐展 is a Chinese character, read 전, meaning exhibition. Posters often use the character alone for compactness, which is why the book prints the reading 전 beside it. In running text you would write 고흐전 or 고흐 전시회.

Read 일시 and 기간 carefully: 기간 is a span of dates the event runs over, 일시 is a date and time. The Van Gogh listing also gives 입장 마감 — last entry — which is an hour before closing, a detail Korean venues state and enforce.

Reading 3 — Culture Day

다음은 문화생활에 대한 글입니다. 잘 읽고 질문에 답해 보세요.

Here is a piece about going out to see things. Read it and answer.

문화가 있는 날 — the day with culture in it

나는 '문화가 있는 날'에 전시회나 공연을 보러 간다.

I go to an exhibition or a show on 'Culture Day'.

'문화가 있는 날'은 매월 마지막 주 수요일이다.

'Culture Day' is the last Wednesday of every month.

이날은 보통 때보다 싼 가격이나 무료로 문화생활을 할 수 있다.

On that day you can go out cheaper than usual, or for nothing.

그래서 부담 없이 문화생활을 즐길 수 있다.

So you can enjoy it without it weighing on you.

지난달에 나는 그림 전시회를 보고 왔다.

Last month I went to see an art exhibition.

나는 그림을 잘 그리지는 못하지만 보는 것을 좋아한다.

I can't paint well myself, but I like looking at paintings.

그림을 보고 있으면 기분이 좋아진다.

When I'm looking at them my mood lifts.

이번 달 '문화가 있는 날'에는 재즈(Jazz) 콘서트 티켓을 예매했다. 50% 할인을 받았다.

For this month's Culture Day I booked a jazz concert ticket. I got 50% off.

좋은 기회라서 나는 친구들에게도 예매하라고 했다.

It was a good chance, so I told my friends to book too.

다음 달 '문화가 있는 날'에는 박물관에 가 보고 싶다.

Next month I'd like to try a museum.

박물관에도 재미있는 행사가 많은데 아직 한 번도 간 적이 없기 때문이다.

Museums have plenty of interesting events too, and I've never once been.

이렇게 새로운 문화생활을 하면 좋은 경험이 된다.

Trying something new like this makes for a good experience.

그리고 내 경험이 쌓이는 것만큼 한국 생활에도 점점 익숙해지고 있는 것 같다.

And the more my experience builds up, the more at home I seem to feel in Korea.

1) 밑글의 내용과 같으면 ○, 다르면 X 하세요.

① 나는 이번 달에 그림 전시회에 갈 것이다.

I will go to an art exhibition this month.

② 재즈 콘서트 티켓은 무료이다.

The jazz concert ticket was free.

③ 나는 박물관에 다녀온 적이 있다.

I have been to a museum before.

④ 문화생활 경험은 한국 생활에 도움이 된다.

Going out to see things helps with life in Korea.

2) '문화가 있는 날'에 전시회나 공연을 보면 좋은 점이 무엇입니까?

What is good about seeing an exhibition or show on Culture Day?

문화가 있는 날 is a real government scheme, not an invention of the textbook. On the last Wednesday of each month, cinemas, museums, galleries and many performances cut their prices or drop them altogether. It is worth knowing about: it is the cheapest way into Korean cultural life, and it needs no membership.

The last sentence pairs 만큼 with a verb rather than a noun — 경험이 쌓이는 것만큼. The trick is 것, which turns the clause 경험이 쌓이는 into a noun so 만큼 has something to attach to. The sense becomes proportional: as much as my experience builds, so much do I settle in.

부담 없이 is worth taking as a set phrase. 부담 is a burden — financial, social or emotional — and 부담이 없다 means there is nothing weighing on you. Here it is about cost, but the same phrase covers an invitation with no obligation attached.

문화와 정보: 공연 정보를 찾는 방법

Culture & information — How to find out what is on 문화생활을 즐기기 위해 공연 정보를 찾는 방법에는 여러 가지가 있다.

There are several ways to find out what shows are on.

가장 일반적인 방법은 관련 기관에 직접 문의를 하거나 홈페이지를 통해 공연 정보를 알아보는 것이다.

The most usual is to ask the venue directly, or look at its website.

그런데 최근에 공연 정보를 한데 모아 놓은 포털 사이트가 있어서 공연 정보를 얻기가 쉬워졌다.

Lately, though, portal sites gather it all in one place, which has made it much easier.

문화포털(www.culture.go.kr)이 바로 그것이다.

Munhwa Portal, at www.culture.go.kr, is the one to know.

'문화포털'에서는 언제, 어디서, 어떤 공연이나 전시, 콘서트가 있는지를 쉽게 검색할 수 있다.

On it you can easily search what is on, where and when.

또 이용자들이 남긴 공연 후기가 있어서 어떤 공연을 볼지 선택할 때 참고가 된다.

It also carries users' reviews, which help you decide what to see.

이 포털에서는 문화 정보뿐만 아니라 국내외 문화 관련 영상, 도서 정보도 제공한다.

Besides listings it offers cultural video and book information, Korean and foreign.

포털에 회원 가입을 하면 새로운 문화 정보를 더 편리하게 이용할 수 있다.

If you register, keeping up with what's new is easier still.

질문 — questions

1) '문화포털'에서는 어떤 정보를 제공합니까?

What information does Munhwa Portal provide?

2) '문화포털'에서 공연 후기를 보면 어떤 점에서 도움이 됩니까?

How do the reviews on it help?

3) 여러분은 어떤 방법으로 문화 정보를 찾습니까?

How do you find out what is on?

The go.kr in the address tells you this is a government site, the way ac.kr means a university and co.kr a company. It is a useful thing to be able to read: a go.kr address is official, free to use, and will not be trying to sell you anything.

후기 is the ordinary Korean word for a user review — of a show, a restaurant, a purchase. It is not a formal critic's review, which is 평론. When you shop or book online in Korea you will see 후기 everywhere, and reading them is one of the most useful things intermediate Korean gets you.

뿐만 아니라 in the seventh sentence means 'not only ... but also'. It attaches straight to a noun — 문화 정보뿐만 아니라 — and is common in written Korean of this register. You are not asked to produce it yet, but you should recognise it.

Four words on this list are about tickets and are easy to confuse: 입장권 is one you bought, 초대권 one you were given, 예약 번호 the reference that proves the booking, and 수령하다 the act of collecting the physical ticket. All four appear on page 91.

관람하다 is the formal verb for watching something staged — a show, a film, an exhibition. In conversation you would just say 보다. 관람 turns up in the compounds on the ticket: 관람료 is the admission price, 관람 연령 the age rating, 관람가 means permitted to view.
