

Chapter 9 — Incidents and accidents

What this chapter covers

어휘	Vocabulary 사건, 사고 관련 어휘 — words for crimes and accidents
문법	Grammar 동-을 뻔하다 / 명으로 인해 — very nearly did · owing to, as a result of
활동	Activities 자신에게 생긴 사고에 대해 말하기, 자신이 경험한 사건이나 사고에 대한 글 쓰기 — telling someone about an accident you had; writing about an incident you lived through
문화와 정보	Culture and information 사고와 예방 — accidents and how to prevent them

The chapter title pairs two words English tends to blur. 사건 is an incident with a person behind it — a theft, an assault, an arson case; 사고 is an accident, something that happens to you. Korean news keeps them strictly apart, and the reading pages give you one page of each.

The two grammar points fit the subject exactly. -을 뻔하다 is for the near miss you tell people about afterwards — the fall you almost took, the flight you almost missed. 으로 인해 is the formal 'owing to' that news reports use to name a cause: 태풍으로 인해, 사고로 인해. One is what you say; the other is what you read.

Getting started

이 사람들은 무슨 일이 생긴 것 같아요?

What do you think happened to these people?

여러분도 이런 일을 경험한 적이 있어요?

Have you ever been through anything like this?

What the source page shows

건물 화재...사망 1명, 부상 5명

A news screen: "Building fire — one dead, five injured"

A man in a suit slipping on a wet floor beside a caution sign, his briefcase and phone in the air; a young man in hospital clothes with his arm in a sling

무슨 일이 생기다 is the everyday way to say 'something happened'. Note 생기다, not 일어나다 — 생기다 is for something coming into existence, and Korean uses it for troubles arriving unbidden. You will hear 무슨 일 있어요? as a genuine question meaning 'is something wrong?'

The news caption is worth reading as a pattern: 사망 1명, 부상 5명. Korean headlines drop particles and verbs entirely and count people with 명. You will see the same shape in every accident report in this chapter.

Vocabulary

1. 이 사람들에게 무슨 일이 생겼어요? 왜 그렇게 됐어요?

1. What happened to these people? How did it come about?

가 무슨 일이 있었어요?

What happened?

나 자전거를 타고 가다가 넘어졌어요.

I was riding my bike and fell off.

사고 — what went wrong

넘어지다 fall over

미끄러지다 slip

물에 빠지다

fall into water

떨어지다

fall from a height

물건에 맞다

be hit by something falling

차에 치이다

be hit by a car

베이다 cut yourself

데다 burn yourself

2. 사고가 났을 때 어떻게 했어요? 관계있는 것끼리 연결하고 이야기해 보세요.

2. What did you do when the accident happened? Match the pairs and talk about them.

가 어디를 다쳤어요?

Where were you hurt?

나 다리뼈가 부러져서 한 달 동안 깁스를 해야 해요.

I broke my leg, so I have to be in a cast for a month.

다친 곳 — the injury

뼈가 부러지다

break a bone

이마가 찢어지다

gash your forehead

발목이 삐다

sprain your ankle

손을 데다

burn your hand

치료 — the treatment

치료를 받다

get treatment

깁스를 하다

have a cast put on 목발을 짚다

walk on crutches

꿰매다 have stitches

Most of these verbs are ones things do to you, not ones you do. 넘어지다, 미끄러지다, 떨어지다, 치이다 all describe you on the receiving end, which is why the person is the subject and takes 이/가. Compare 차에 치이다 — the car takes 에, because it is the thing you were hit by, not the doer of a sentence.

베이다 and 데다 are the two you will actually need in a kitchen. 베이다 is the passive of 베다 'to cut', so 손을 베였어요 means the knife got you. 데다 is burning yourself on something hot, and it stays active: 손을 댔어요. Both are short, both are common, and neither is guessable from a dictionary.

깁스 comes from the German Gips, plaster — a reminder that Korean medical vocabulary borrowed heavily from German by way of Japanese. 깁스를 하다 is 'to be in a cast'; the hospital does the work but the patient is the subject, exactly as with 치료를 받다.

Grammar 1 — 동-을 뻔하다

그 일이 일어나지 않았지만 거의 일어날 것 같은 상황까지 갔음을 나타낸다.

Shows that something did not happen, but came very close to happening.

가 밖에 눈이 와서 길이 많이 미끄럽지요?
It's snowing outside — the roads must be slippery?

나 네, 너무 미끄러워서 저도 넘어질 뻔했어요.
Yes, it was so slippery I nearly fell myself.

예문 — Examples

가 5분만 늦었어도 비행기를 못 탈 뻔했어요.
Five minutes later and I'd have missed the plane.

나 정말 다행이에요.
That was lucky.

회사 기계를 만지다가 크게 다칠 뻔했어요.
I was handling a machine at work and nearly hurt myself badly.

큰불이 날 뻔했는데 소화기가 있어서 다행이었다.
A big fire nearly broke out; luckily there was an extinguisher.

Forms

죽다 → 죽을 뻔하다
-을 뻔하다 after a consonant

속다 → 속을 뻔하다
-을 뻔하다 after a consonant

사고가 나다 → 사고가 날 뻔하다
-ㄴ 뻔하다 after a vowel

다치다 → 다칠 뻔하다
-ㄴ 뻔하다 after a vowel

올다 → 올 뻔하다
ㄹ stem takes 뻔 directly

It is almost always in the past: 뻔했어요, not 뻔해요. That is the logic of the form — you can only report a near miss once it has been missed. Treat 을 뻔했다 as the unit and you will not be tempted into the present.

뻔하다 on its own means 'obvious, plain to see'. Attached to -을 it comes to mean the outcome was plainly on its way and then didn't arrive. That is why the sentence so often gets 다행이다 or 휴 attached — the form carries relief built into it.

Watch what it does with 못. 못 탈 뻔했어요 means you nearly failed to board, not that you nearly boarded. The negation belongs to the thing that almost happened, so read the whole clause before deciding which way round the near miss went.

연습 1 — 그림을 보고 보기와 같이 친구와 이야기해 보세요.

가 무슨 일이 있었어요?
What happened?

나 길이 너무 미끄러워서 넘어질 뻔했어요.
The road was so slippery I nearly fell.

보기) 휴, 안 넘어지고 잘 내려왔네.
Example) Phew — got down without falling.

1) 휴, 여기 박스가 있어서 다행이네.

1) Phew — lucky these boxes were here.

2) 휴! 치이는 줄 알았네.

2) Phew! I thought I was going to be hit.

3) 휴, 안 맞았어.

3) Phew, it missed me.

연습 2 — 여러분은 지금까지 살면서 '큰일 날 뻔한 적'이 있습니까? 친구들과 이야기해 보세요.

다칠 뻔한 적 / 차에 치일 뻔한 적

a time you nearly got hurt / a time you were nearly hit by a car 저는 지난겨울에 집 앞 길에서 미끄러져서 머리를 다칠 뻔했어요.

Last winter I slipped on the road outside my house and nearly hit my head.

단어장 — New words

만지다

touch, handle

큰일 나다 is 'for something serious to happen' and it is one of the most useful set phrases in the language. 큰일 날 뻔했다 — disaster nearly struck — is what the second exercise is asking you to produce, and it is exactly what a Korean speaker would say in the same spot.

Grammar 2 — 명으로 인해

뒤에 나오는 일의 원인을 나타낸다. 주로 격식적인 상황에서 사용한다.

Gives the cause of what follows. Used mainly in formal contexts.

엘리베이터 수리로 인해 10시까지 운행되지 않습니다.

Owing to lift maintenance, the lift will not run until ten o'clock.

예문 — Examples

가 오늘 비행기가 출발할 수 있나요?

Will the plane be able to leave today?

나 태풍으로 인해 비행기 출발이 지연되고 있습니다.

Departures are delayed owing to the typhoon.

최근 자극적인 음식으로 인해 위염 환자가 증가하고 있습니다.

Cases of gastritis are rising lately as a result of highly seasoned food.

에어컨 사용 증가로 인해 여름철 전기 사용이 늘고 있다.

Summer electricity use is climbing because of increased air-conditioning.

Forms

고장 → 고장으로 인해

으로 인해 after a consonant

전기 사용 → 전기 사용으로 인해

으로 인해 after a consonant

사고 → 사고로 인해

로 인해 after a vowel

질은 안개 → 짙은 안개로 인해

로 인해 after a vowel

인해 comes from 인하다, 'to be due to', so the phrase is literally 'being due to X'. That Sino-Korean weight is what makes it formal. In conversation you would say 태풍 때문에; in an announcement or a news report you write 태풍으로 인해.

Unlike 때문에, this one attaches only to nouns — never to a verb clause. If you want a verb in front, you have to nominalise it: 사용이 증가함으로 인해, or more simply 사용 증가로 인해, as in the third example. That is why the practice items are all noun phrases clipped from headlines.

Every announcement you meet in Korea uses this pattern, so learn to read it fast: 공사로 인해, 강풍으로 인해, 시스템 점검으로 인해. It is nearly always followed by something being delayed, suspended or closed.

연습 1 — 보기와 같이 친구와 이야기해 보세요.

가 오늘 신문에 무슨 기사가 났습니까?

What was in the paper today?

나 태풍으로 인해 비행기 출발이 지연됐다고 합니다.

It says departures were delayed because of the typhoon.

보기) 지난주말 강한 태풍, 비행기 출발 지연

Example) Strong typhoon last weekend, flights delayed

1) 운전 중 스마트폰 사용, 교통사고 증가

1) Phone use while driving, accidents rising

2) 지하철 공사, 환승역 이용 불가

2) Subway works, interchange station closed

3) 인스턴트 과다 섭취, 성인병 증가

3) Too much processed food, lifestyle disease rising

연습 2 — 다음 문제가 생긴 원인에 대해 친구들과 이야기해 보세요.

비만 obesity

지구 온난화

global warming

쓰레기 증가

rising waste

단어장 — New words

운행되다 run, be in service

지연되다 be delayed

자극적 highly seasoned, harsh

과다 섭취

excessive intake

성인병

lifestyle disease

성인병 and 과다 섭취 both came up in chapter 7's reading on modern illness. The textbook is recycling that vocabulary here on purpose: the same nouns that named a health problem now serve as the cause slot in 으로 인해. Learning a word once and meeting it in a new frame is how the middle levels are built.

Speaking

1. 안젤라 씨와 라흐만 씨가 사고에 대해 이야기합니다. 다음과 같이 이야기해 보세요.

1. Angela and Rahman are talking about an accident. Practise the conversation below.

안젤라 라흐만 씨, 괜찮아요? 많이 다쳤어요?

Rahman, are you all right? Are you badly hurt?

라흐만 팔이 조금 부러졌어요. 한 달 동안 깁스를 하고 있어야 된대요.

My arm is broken, a little. They say I have to keep the cast on for a month.

안젤라 그런데 어떻게 하다가 이렇게 됐어요?

But how did it happen?

라흐만 일하는데 옆에 세워 놓은 새시가 갑자기 쓰러졌어요.

I was working and a window frame propped up beside me suddenly toppled over.

안젤라 그랬군요. 정말 큰일 날 뻔했네요. 그래도 다른 곳은 다치지 않아서 다행이에요.

I see. That could have been really serious. Still, it's lucky nothing else was hurt.

라흐만 저도 그렇게 생각해요.

I think so too.

안젤라 잘 쉬시고 빨리 나으세요.

Get plenty of rest and a quick recovery.

라흐만 네, 고마워요.

Thank you.

Swap in these pairs

1) 팔이 부러지다, 한 달 동안 깁스를 하고 있어야 되다 | 일하는데 옆에 세워 놓은 새시가 갑자기 쓰러지다

1) broke an arm, a month in a cast | a window frame propped up beside you toppled while you worked

2) 발목이 빠다, 2주 동안 목발을 짚어야 하다 | 빙판인 줄 모르고 뛰어가다가 미끄러지다

2) sprained an ankle, two weeks on crutches | ran without noticing the ice and slipped

연습 2 — 사고를 경험한 사람과 위로하는 사람이 되어 대화해 보세요.

사고를 경험한 사람 — the person it happened to 다리에 화상을 입었다 / 한 달 동안 붕대를 감고 있어야 한다.

burned your leg / have to keep it bandaged for a month

자전거를 타다가 넘어져서 다리가 부러졌다 / 한 달 동안 목발을 짚어야 한다.

fell off a bike and broke your leg / a month on crutches

위로하는 사람 — the person offering comfort

그만해서 정말 다행이에요.

It's a mercy it wasn't worse.

천만다행이에요.

That's a huge relief.

이 정도로 끝난 게 어디예요?

You got off lightly, all things considered.

하마터면 큰일 날 뻔했네요.

That could so easily have been serious.

단어장 — New words

빙판

sheet of ice, icy ground

화상을 입다

get burned

붕대 bandage

천만다행이다 be a great mercy

하마터면

very nearly, all but 하마터면 almost always sits with -을 뻔하다, and the pair is worth learning as one unit. The adverb by itself signals 'a hair's breadth away', and Korean speakers rarely use one half without the other: 하마터면 넘어질 뻔했어요.

The comfort phrases on the right are formulas, and using a real one matters more than composing something original. 이 정도로 끝난 게 어디예요? is idiomatic and hard to build from parts — literally 'where is it that it ended at this much?', meaning you should count yourself fortunate. Say it as it stands.

그만해서 uses 그만 in its sense of 'that much and no more'. It is not the 그만 of 그만하세요, 'stop it'. Here 그만해서 다행이에요 means 'lucky it stopped there', and the two senses are best kept apart by the sentence they live in.

Listening

1. 여러분은 지금까지 살면서 교통사고가 난 적이 있습니까? 그때 경찰에게 상황을 어떻게 설명합니까?

1. Have you ever been in a traffic accident? How would you explain the situation to the police?

어떤 사고가 났습니까? 이런 일이 생기면 어떻게 해야 돼요?

2) 어떤 사고가 났습니까?

2) What sort of accident was it?

3) 방화로 보이는 화재가 발생했다.

3) A fire that appears to have been set broke out.

Any consonant that lands as a [ㄷ] sound at the end of a syllable — ㅍ, ㅅ, ㅈ, ㅊ, ㅌ — tenses the ㄷ or ㅌ that follows. So 났- plus 대요 comes out [날때요]. This is why the past-tense ㅄ so often sounds harder than it looks on the page.

발생했다 shows the rule twice over: 발 + 생 tenses to [발생], and then 했 + 다 gives [헨따]. Reading the bracketed forms aloud beside the spelling is the fastest way to stop hearing these as different words from the ones you know.

The 자 in 가해자, 피해자, 부상자, 사망자, 용의자 is 'person'. Learn the first halves and the whole set opens: 가해 doing harm, 피해 suffering harm, 부상 injury, 사망 death, 용의 suspicion. The same 자 gives you 근로자, 소비자, 지원자 across the rest of the book.

Keep 절도 and 강도 apart. 절도 is taking property when nobody is confronted — theft; 강도 involves force or threat — robbery. That is exactly why the bicycle headline is 절도 and the bank one is 강도, even though the gun turned out to be a toy.

뺑소니 is one of the few native Korean words in this list, and it means fleeing after causing an accident. It carries real weight in Korea: leaving the scene turns an ordinary traffic case into a criminal one with much heavier penalties, which is why it gets a headline of its own.

Reading 2

3. 다음은 사건 기사에 대한 글입니다. 잘 읽고 질문에 답해 보세요.

3. Below are two news reports. Read them and answer the questions.

가 — 원룸 돌며 휴대 전화만 훔치던 절도범 잡혀

경찰은 지난 16일 충북 청주의 한 빌라에서 절도 용의자 이 모 씨를 체포해 조사 중이다.

On the 16th, police arrested a theft suspect surnamed Lee at a low-rise block in Cheongju, North Chungcheong, and are questioning him.

이 모 씨는 지난 두 달 동안 청주 인근의 원룸을 돌며 원룸 거주자들의 휴대 전화만 골라 훔쳐 온 혐의를 받고 있다.

Over the past two months he is alleged to have gone from studio flat to studio flat around Cheongju, stealing only the residents' mobile phones.

이 씨의 행각은 비슷한 신고가 경찰에 잇따라 접수되자 경찰들의 끈질긴 수사 끝에 밝혀지게 되었다.

His run came to light after a string of similar reports reached the police and a dogged investigation followed.

휴대 전화만을 훔친 이유에 대해 이 씨는 휴대 전화의 경우 중고로 손쉽게 팔 수 있기 때문이라고 말한 것으로 알려졌다.

Asked why he took only phones, Lee is reported to have said that phones are easy to sell second-hand.

나 — 인천 오피스텔에 방화로 화재 발생, 주민 20여 명 대피

어제 밤 10시쯤 인천시에 있는 한 오피스텔에서 방화로 보이는 화재가 발생했다. 이 화재로 오피스텔에 거주하는 주민 20여 명이 대피하는 일이 벌어졌다.

At around ten last night a fire that appears to have been set broke out at an officetel in Incheon, forcing some twenty residents to evacuate.

5층에서 시작된 불은 6층까지 번져 여러 개의 사무실 등을 태우고 40분 만에 꺼졌다.

Starting on the fifth floor, the fire spread to the sixth, burned several offices and was put out after forty minutes.

불은 많은 입주 사무실 직원들이 퇴근한 시간에 발생하였고 주민들의 신속한 대피로 가벼운 부상자만 있는 것으로 알려졌다.

It broke out after most office staff had left for the day, and thanks to the residents' swift evacuation only minor injuries were reported.

경찰은 방화 용의자 김 모 씨를 오피스텔 근처에서 체포하여 정확한 방화 원인을 조사하고 있다.

Police arrested an arson suspect surnamed Kim near the building and are investigating exactly why the fire was set.

① In the first report, Lee stole phones from people living in a villa block. ○ / ×

② 글 가에서 경찰들은 시민들의 비슷한 신고가 계속되자 수사를 시작했다.

② In the first report, police opened the investigation after repeated similar reports. ○ / ×

③ 글 나에서 오피스텔에서 발생한 불은 건물의 전 층으로 퍼졌다.

③ In the second report, the fire spread to every floor of the building. ○ / ×

④ 글 나에서 김 씨가 불을 지른 이유가 정확하게 밝혀졌다.

④ In the second report, Kim's reason for setting the fire has been established. ○ / ×

이 모 씨 is how Korean news names someone not yet convicted: the surname, then 모 meaning 'a certain', then 씨. It is a legal courtesy, not a nickname, and you will see 김 모 씨 and 박 모 씨 in every crime report. The suspect's given name is deliberately withheld.

Questions 5③ and 5④ both hinge on precision. The fire went from the fifth floor to the sixth — not 전 층, every floor. And the police are still investigating 정확한 방화 원인, so nothing has been established. News prose is full of these near-misses, and the exercise is training you to read for exactly how much was claimed.

오피스텔 is a Korean coinage from 'office' plus 'hotel' — a studio building zoned for both living and working, which is why the report can talk about residents and offices in the same fire. 원룸 in the first report is another such coinage: a one-room flat.

Writing

1. 여러분은 지금까지 살면서 직접 경험한 사건이나 사고가 있습니까? 메모해 보세요.

1. Has an incident or accident ever happened to you? Make notes.

메모 — six boxes to fill in ① 언제

① When

② 어디에서

② Where

③ 무엇을

③ What

④ 어떻게

④ How

⑤ 왜

⑤ Why

⑥ 그때 기분

⑥ How you felt

2. 위의 내용을 바탕으로 자신이 경험한 사건이나 사고에 대한 글을 써 보세요.

2. Using those notes, write about the incident or accident you went through.

저는 지금까지 살면서

The page starts you off: "In my life so far..."

The six boxes are the journalist's questions, and filling them in order gives you a finished paragraph structure without any further planning. Note that ⑥ 그때 기분 is the one a news report would never have — it is what makes this your account rather than a headline.

Use the chapter's grammar where it fits naturally. 하마터면 크게 다칠 뻔했습니다 belongs in the middle of the story; 비 때문에 미끄러워서, or the more formal 폭우로 인해, belongs where you explain the cause. Both are doing work no other structure does as economically.

The opening line 저는 지금까지 살면서 is printed for you and sets the tense: you are looking back over your whole life, so the body goes in the past. Write in 습니다 style throughout to match the register the sentence starter establishes.

Culture and information — 사고와 예방

국가통계포털(<http://kosis.kr>)에 따르면 한국에서는 대체로 매년 30만 건의 사고가 발생한다.

According to the national statistics portal (kosis.kr), around 300,000 accidents occur in Korea each year.

이 중에 교통사고가 압도적으로 많아 전체 사고의 70% 이상을 차지한다.

Traffic accidents dominate, making up more than 70 per cent of the total.

교통사고 다음으로는 화재 사고가 많은데 대략 전체 사고의 15% 정도이다.

Fires come next, at roughly 15 per cent.

그리고 등산 사고, 추락 사고, 자전거 사고가 뒤를 잇는데 발생 건수는 앞의 두 사고보다 훨씬 적어서 각각 전체 사고의 2% 안팎이다.

Hiking accidents, falls and cycling accidents follow, each accounting for about 2 per cent — far fewer than the first two.

이 결과를 볼 때 많은 사고는 우리가 조금만 주의하면 대부분 예방할 수 있는 것들이다.

Read together, these figures suggest most accidents could be prevented with a little more care.

대표적인 예로 교통사고는 교통 법규를 잘 지키고 갑자기 생길지도 모르는 돌발 상황에 미리 대비하여 운전하는 습관을 가진다면 예방할 수 있다.

Traffic accidents are the clearest case: obey the rules of the road and get into the habit of driving ready for the unexpected, and they can be prevented.

과속을 하면 안 되고 무리하게 추월하거나 끼어들기를 하는 것은 위험하다.

Speeding is out, and forcing an overtake or cutting in is dangerous.

특히 사고 예방을 위해서는 안전거리를 유지하는 습관을 갖는 게 좋다.

Above all, it is worth making a habit of keeping a safe following distance.

그리고 최근에는 휴대 전화로 인한 교통사고가 늘고 있는데 운전 중 휴대 전화를 보거나 휴대 전화를 사용하는 것은 매우 위험하다.

Lately accidents caused by mobile phones have been rising; looking at or using a phone while driving is extremely dangerous.

뿐만 아니라 보행자도 휴대 전화를 보면서 걷어가는 것은 사고의 위험이 높으므로 주의해야 한다.

Pedestrians too should take care, since walking while looking at a phone carries a high risk of accident.

3) Which accidents are most common where you are from?

This page is where 으로 인해 earns its keep: 휴대 전화로 인한 교통사고. Note the form — 인한, not 인해, because it modifies the noun 교통사고 that follows. 으로 인해 links clauses; 으로 인한 attaches to a noun. Both come from 인하다 and you will meet them equally often.

안전거리 is a fixed term in Korean road safety, and 안전거리를 유지하다 is exactly the phrase on the motorway signs. Learning the whole collocation is more useful than the parts; the same goes for 교통 법규를 지키다, which is how Korean says 'obey traffic law'.

돌발 상황 — a sudden, unforeseen situation — is worth taking away. 돌발 means abrupt and unexpected, and the phrase turns up in workplace safety briefings, driving lessons and emergency planning. 돌발 상황에 대비하다 is the standard collocation.

This is the longest vocabulary list in the book so far, and it splits three ways. The verbs at the top are what happens to a body; the 자 nouns in the middle are the people a report names; the 사건 nouns near the end are the crimes themselves. Learn them in those three groups rather than as one list of forty-eight.

Much of the second half is news language you will read rather than say — 체포하다, 수사, 혐의를 받다, 잇따르다. That is the right ambition for it: enough to follow a Korean news item about your own neighbourhood, which is more than enough reason to know them.
