

2과 성격

Chapter 2 — Personality

This chapter at a glance

어휘	Vocabulary 성격 — what a person is like
문법	Grammar 형-어지다 / 동형-는 대신(에) — becoming something you were not · doing one thing in place of another
활동	Activities 성격에 대해 말하기, 성격을 소개하는 글 쓰기 — talking about personality; writing an account of your own
문화와 정보	Culture & information 성격과 직업 — personality and work

Nearly every personality word in this chapter is an adjective, and that is why -어지다 is taught alongside them. Korean has no verb 'to become'; you attach -어지다 to the adjective itself. So the vocabulary list and the grammar point are one lesson, not two: learn 꼼꼼하다 and you have 꼼꼼해지다 for free.

The chapter also assumes something about how personality is discussed in Korean. People describe themselves and others in terms of a fixed pair — 외향적/내성적, 급하다/느긋하다 — far more readily than in English, and saying 저는 성격이 급해요 about yourself is ordinary small talk rather than a confession.

사진 1

a meeting where one woman leans in to present a chart while a colleague sits back with folded arms

사진 2

people queuing at an airport, passports out, several checking their watches

그림

a woman tapping her watch and saying 빨리빨리 — hurry up

빨리빨리 is the doubled form of 빨리, quickly, and it is half a joke about Korea itself. Koreans use 빨리빨리 문화 to describe the national impatience the photographs are hinting at, so the word carries a wry self-awareness rather than a straight complaint.

행동하다 is 'to behave, to act', not 'to do'. The question 어떻게 행동해요? asks about conduct — what people are doing with their bodies and faces in the pictures — and the answer is meant to lead you to a personality word.

어휘

Vocabulary

다음을 보고 어떤 성격인지 이야기해 보세요.

Look at the following and say what sort of personality each shows.

성격 — personality, in opposing pairs

외향적이다 ↔ 내성적이다

to be outgoing ↔ to be introverted, reserved

꼼꼼하다 ↔ 덜렁거리다

to be meticulous ↔ to be careless, scatterbrained

(성격이) 느긋하다 ↔ (성격이) 급하다

to be easy-going ↔ to be impatient, in a hurry

적극적이다 ↔ 소극적이다

to be forthcoming, to throw yourself in ↔ to hold back

다정하다 ↔ 무뚝뚝하다

to be warm, affectionate ↔ to be blunt, undemonstrative

What the five pictures showed: one woman chatting easily with a group, another standing apart from it; one student with his hand up, another keeping his head down over his notes; a man hurrying off a train and leaving his umbrella behind; one man offering a child a plate of snacks, another reading without looking up; a man at the copier telling a rushing colleague 천천히 하세요 — take your time.

외향적, 내성적, 적극적, 소극적 all end in -적이다. That -적 is a Sino-Korean suffix meaning '-ish, of that kind', and it attaches to a whole class of character words. Recognising it saves you learning each one blind: 개방적 open, 보수적 conservative, 현실적 realistic — all appear later in this chapter.

덜렁거리다 is the odd one out: it is a verb, not an adjective, so it conjugates as 덜렁거리려요, 덜렁거렸어요, and it cannot take -어지다. The -거리다 ending is common in words for repeated, fidgety behaviour.

느긋하다 and 급하다 are given as (성격이) 느긋하다 because 급하다 on its own usually means the situation is urgent — 급한 일이에요, it's urgent. Add 성격이 and it becomes a description of the person: quick-tempered, always rushing.

여러분의 성격은 어때요? 친구의 성격은 어때요? 친구와 이야기해 보세요.

What are you like? What is your classmate like? Talk about it together.

보기 저는 성격이 외향적이에요. 그래서 사람들과 이야기하는 것을 좋아해요.

I'm an outgoing sort. That's why I like talking to people.

Notice the frame 저는 성격이 외향적이에요 — literally 'as for me, the personality is outgoing'. The double subject is normal Korean: the topic is the person, and 성격 is what the sentence actually says something about. Copy the frame whole.

문법 1: 형-어지다

Grammar 1 — Adjective + 어지다

상태의 변화를 나타낼 때 사용한다.

Used to show a change of state.

반장님 잠시드 씨, 예전에는 실수를 자주 했는데 요즘은 많이 꼼꼼해졌네요.
Jamshid, you used to make mistakes often, but you've got much more careful lately.

잠시드 감사합니다. 아직 배울 게 많아요.
Thank you. I've still got a lot to learn.

예문 — Examples

가 아이 성격이 어때요?
What is your child like?

나 태권도를 배운 후부터 많이 활발해졌어요.
Since he started taekwondo he's become a lot livelier.

고향에 있을 때는 성격이 느긋했어요. 한국에 와서 많이 급해졌어요.
Back home I was easy-going. Since coming to Korea I've become much more of a rusher.

이제는 한국 생활에 많이 익숙해졌어요.
By now I've grown quite used to life in Korea.

Form

-아지다	after a stem vowel ㅏ or ㅑ 비싸다 → 비싸지다 · 좋다 → 좋아지다
-어지다	after any other stem vowel ★다르다 → 달라지다 · 길다 → 길어지다
-해지다	for adjectives ending in 하다 친하다 → 친해지다 · 익숙하다 → 익숙해지다

-어지다 turns an adjective into a verb of becoming. 좋다 is 'to be good'; 좋아지다 is 'to get better'. That matters grammatically as well as in meaning — once it is a verb it takes verb endings, so you say 좋아지고 있어요, never 좋아지어요.

The ★ on 다르다 marks the ㄹ irregular: the ㄹ doubles its ㄹ and the vowel shifts, giving 달라지다 — not 다르어지다. 빠르다 → 빨라지다 behaves the same way. 달라지다, 'to change, to become different', is one of the most useful words in the chapter and reappears in the reading.

You will almost always meet this pattern in the past tense — 꼼꼼해졌어요, 급해졌어요 — because a change is something you notice after it has happened. Treat -어졌어요 as the default shape and you will rarely be wrong.

연습 1 — 그림을 보고 보기와 같이 친구와 이야기해 보세요.

가 예전은 어땠어요? 지금은 어때요?
What was it like before? What about now?

나 예전에는 한국 생활이 힘들었어요. 하지만 요즘은 많이 편해졌어요.
Life in Korea used to be hard. But these days it's got much easier.

예전 → 요즘 — then and now보기) 한국 생활이 힘들다 → 편하다

life in Korea is hard → comfortable

2) 성격이 급하다 → 느긋하다

impatient by nature → easy-going

4) 한국어 발음이 나쁘다 → 발음이 좋다

poor Korean pronunciation → good pronunciation

1) 물건 값이 싸다 → 비싸다

prices are cheap → expensive

3) 자주 아프다 → 건강하다

often ill → healthy

연습 2 — 여러분은 성격이 어떻게 달라졌어요? 친구들과 이야기해 보세요.입사하기 전/후

before / after joining a company

결혼하기 전/후

before / after getting married

한국에 오기 전/후

before / after coming to Korea

저는 입사하기 전에는 좀 덜렁거렸어요. 하지만 요즘은 많이 꼼꼼해졌어요.

Before I started work I was a bit scatterbrained. But these days I've become much more meticulous.

단어장 — New words활발하다

to be lively, outgoing

문법 2: 동형-는 대신(에)

Grammar 2 — Verb/Adjective + 는 대신(에)

앞선 행동에 대한 보상이나 대체를 나타낼 때 사용한다.

Used to show compensation for, or substitution of, what comes first.

안젤라 일요일에도 출근해요?

Do you go in on Sundays too?

이링 네, 일요일에 일하는 대신에 월요일에는 쉬어요.

Yes — but in return for working Sunday I take Monday off.

예문 — Examples

가 우리 아이는 간단한 숙제도 시간이 오래 걸려요.

My child takes ages even over simple homework.

나 시간이 오래 걸리는 대신에 실수가 없으니까 걱정하지 마세요.

It takes a long time, but in exchange there are no mistakes — so don't worry.

부모님을 자주 찾아 뵙지 못하는 대신에 전화를 자주 드려요.

Since I can't visit my parents often, I phone them often instead.

일이 많은 대신에 다양한 경험을 쌓을 수 있어서 좋아요.

There's a lot of work, but to make up for it I get all sorts of experience, so I'm glad of it.

Form

-는 대신에

verbs

먹다 → 먹는 대신에 · 일하다 → 일하는 대신에 · ★만들다 → 만드는 대신에

-은 대신에

adjectives ending in a consonant

많다 → 많은 대신에 · 작다 → 작은 대신에

-ㄴ 대신에

adjectives ending in a vowel

싸다 → 싼 대신에 · 바쁘다 → 바쁜 대신에 · ★힘들다 → 힘든 대신에

대신 is an ordinary noun meaning 'a substitute', so 대신에 is literally 'in the place of'. That is why the ending in front of it is just the modifier form you already know: -는 for verbs, -은/ㄴ for adjectives, exactly as before any other noun. The 에 may be dropped.

The pattern covers two ideas English keeps apart. Substitution: 엘리베이터를 타는 대신에 계단을 이용해요 — stairs instead of the lift. Compensation: 일이 힘든 대신에 월급이 많아요 — the work is hard, but the pay makes up for it. Which one you mean is settled by whether the second clause replaces the first or balances it.

The ★ verbs are the ㄹ stems: the ㄹ drops before -는 and before -ㄴ, so 만들다 → 만드는 대신에 and 힘들다 → 힘든 대신에. Writing 만들는 or 힘들은 is the commonest mistake here.

With a plain noun you need no ending at all — 커피 대신에 물을 마셔요, water instead of coffee. The last exercise on this page relies on that, so keep both shapes in mind.

연습 1 — 그림을 보고 보기와 같이 친구와 이야기해 보세요.

가 회사는 어때요? 일이 힘들어요?

How's the company? Is the work hard?

나 네. 일이 힘든 대신에 월급이 많아요.

Yes. The work is hard, but the pay makes up for it.

보기) 회사: 일이 힘들다 | 월급이 많다

the company: work is hard | the pay is good

2) 점심: 음식을 시켜 먹다 | 만들어 먹다

lunch: order food in | cook it yourself

1) 일: 주말에 근무하다 | 평일에 쉬다

work: on duty at weekends | off on weekdays

3) 컴퓨터: 품질이 좋다 | 가격이 비싸다

a computer: the quality is good | the price is high

연습 2 — 건강해지고 싶을 때 여러분은 무엇을 해요?

엘리베이터를 타다 / 계단을 자주 이용하다

take the lift / use the stairs often

커피 / 물

coffee / water

저는 엘리베이터를 타는 대신에 계단을 자주 이용해요.

Instead of taking the lift, I use the stairs a lot.

고천 씨가 아이 성격에 대한 고민을 이야기합니다. 다음 대화처럼 이야기해 보세요.

Gocheon talks about her worry over her child's personality. Practise a conversation like this one.

후엔 고천 씨, 무슨 일이 있어요? 얼굴이 안 좋아 보여요.

Gocheon, is something wrong? You don't look well.

고천 우리 아이 성격 때문에 고민이에요.

I'm worried about my child's personality.

후엔 성민이 성격요?

Seongmin's personality?

고천 네, 애가 저를 닮아 성격이 많이 내성적이거든요. 한국에 온 지 두 달이 넘었는데 학교 친구들과 아직 못 어울리는 것 같아요.

Yes — he takes after me and he's very shy, you see. It's been over two months since we came to Korea and he still doesn't seem to mix with the children at school.

후엔 그래요? 걱정되시겠어요. 그럼 아이한테 동아리나 봉사 활동을 시키면 어떨까요? 우리 아이는 봉사 활동을 한 후부터 성격이 외향적이고 밝아진 것 같아요.

Really? You must be worried. How about getting him into a club or some volunteering? Since mine started volunteering he seems to have grown more outgoing and brighter.

고천 그렇군요. 이따 집에 가서 우리 아이하고 얘기해 볼게요. 감사워요.

I see. I'll talk to him when I get home later. Thank you.

Swap in these — 고민 | 조언 → 결과

1) 내성적이다, 학교 친구들과 아직 못 어울리다

shy; still doesn't mix with schoolfriends

1) → 봉사 활동을 한 후부터 성격이 외향적이고 밝다

→ since volunteering, outgoing and brighter

2) 아이에게 계획하는 습관을 만들어 주다

get the child into the habit of planning

1) 아이한테 동아리나 봉사 활동을 시키다

get the child into a club or volunteering

2) 성격이 급하다, 무슨 일을 할 때 자꾸 실수하다

impatient; keeps making mistakes at things

2) → 계획표를 세워서 일을 하니까 성격이 꼼꼼해지다

→ working to a plan, becomes meticulous

고민 is stronger than 'worry' — it is something you turn over in your mind. Note the two ways it appears here: 고민이에요 as a noun ('it's a worry to me') and 걱정되시겠어요 for sympathising. That second one, 'you must be worried', is the standard reply when someone shares a problem, and saying nothing in that slot sounds cold.

-거든요 at the end of 내성적이거든요 supplies background the listener didn't have: 'you see'. It answers an unspoken 'why?'. Beginners overuse it as a general sentence ending — it only works when you are explaining something behind what you just said.

시키다 means to make someone do something, so 아이한테 봉사 활동을 시키다 is 'have the child do volunteering'. It sounds heavier translated than it is; with children and study it is the ordinary word, no coercion implied.

연습 2 — 성격 고민에 대해 조언해 주는 사람이 되어 대화해 보세요.

성격 고민: 소극적이다

the worry: too much of a shrinker

성격 고민: 무뚝뚝하다

the worry: blunt, undemonstrative

2) 제이슨 씨는 성격이 왜, 어떻게 달라졌습니까?

Why and how has Jason's personality changed?

3) 들은 내용과 같으면 ○, 다르면 X 하세요.

Anna envies Jason his personality.

③ 제이슨 씨는 한국에 와서 성격이 달라졌다.

Jason's personality changed after coming to Korea.

Question 2 asks 왜, 어떻게 — why and how. Listen for a 후부터 or 어서 clause giving the cause, then for an -어졌어요 giving the result. The whole listening is built to make you hear the grammar from page 27 in the wild.

발음 — [ㄱ, ㄷ, ㅂ, ㅈ] + ㅎ → [ㅋ, ㅌ, ㅍ, ㅊ]

무뚝뚝했어요 [무뚝뚜깨쎌요]
mu-ttuk-ttu-kae-sseo-yo

급해서 [그패서]
geu-pae-seo

느긋해졌어요 [느그태저쎌요]
neu-geu-tae-jeo-sseo-yo

A 받침 ㄱ, ㄷ, ㅂ or ㅈ meeting a following ㅎ does not stay separate: the two fuse into the single aspirated sound ㅋ, ㅌ, ㅍ or ㅊ. So 급해서 is [그패서], with one puff of breath, not [급해서].

This matters here because so many adjectives in the chapter end in -하다 and change with -해지다, putting a ㅎ right after a 받침. 느긋하다 is already [느그타다] before you add anything. Say the fused form from the start and the -해졌어요 forms come out right by themselves.

정이 많다 has no clean translation. 정 is the attachment that builds between people over time — closer to 'affection born of long acquaintance' than to love. Saying someone 정이 많아요 is high praise, and the lack of it, 정이 없다, is a real criticism.

Several of these are noun + 많다 or 강하다 rather than adjectives: 유머 감각이 많다, 책임감이 강하다, 호기심이 많다. Korean often describes character by saying a quality exists in quantity rather than that a person is something. Keep the particle 이/가 with the noun and the pattern stays regular.

A1 happy님 답변

A1 Reply from happy — your answer goes here

다정한 편인데 uses -는 편이다, 'to be on the ~ side'. Koreans reach for it constantly when describing themselves, because stating a trait flatly sounds like a boast or a complaint. It is the register you want for the writing task at the end of the chapter.

다음은 라흐만 씨의 가족에게 일어난 일입니다. 잘 읽고 질문에 답해 보세요.

Below is something that happened in Rahman's family. Read it and answer the questions.

지난주에 휴가를 받아서 고향에 갔습니다. 오랜만에 가족을 만나는 것이어서 설레는 마음으로 집에 도착했습니다.

Last week I got some leave and went home. It had been a long time since I'd seen my family, so I arrived with a flutter of excitement.

저희 가족은 모두 다정하고 유머 감각이 많아서 늘 대화도 많이 하고 집안이 시끄러운 편인데 이날은 조용했습니다.

We're all warm and funny in my family, so there's always plenty of talk and the house tends to be noisy — but that day it was quiet.

동생에게 집에 무슨 일이 있었는지 물어보니 "부모님이 결혼기념일에 크게 다투셨는데 그때부터 대화를 안 하셔."라고 알려 주었습니다.

When I asked my younger sibling what had happened, I was told: "Mum and Dad had a big row on their wedding anniversary and they haven't spoken since."

저희 아버지는 여행사를 운영하고 계십니다. 적극적이고 활발한 편이시라서 주변에 아는 사람도 많고 모임에 나가는 걸 좋아하십니다.

My father runs a travel agency. He's forthcoming and lively, so he knows a great many people and likes going out to gatherings.

그날에도 동호회 모임에 가셨는데 '특별한 날'인 것을 잊어버리고 밤늦게 들어오신 겁니다.

That day too he went off to his club, forgot it was 'a special day', and came home late at night.

어머니는 아버지를 저녁 내내 기다리셨고 결국 화가 나서 그 후부터 아버지와 말을 안 하고 계셨습니다.

Mother waited for him the whole evening, finally lost her temper, and hadn't spoken to him since.

다음 날 오전에 어머니께서 외출하시는 것을 보고 저는 아버지께 "늦었지만 결혼기념일 파티를 하면 어떨까요?"라고 말씀드렸습니다.

The next morning, seeing Mother go out, I said to Father: "It's late, but how about an anniversary party?"

아버지께서는 "그거 좋은 생각이다. 같이 준비하자."라고 하시고 저와 동생은 아버지를 도와 작은 파티를 준비했습니다.

Father said, "That's a good idea. Let's get it ready together," and my sibling and I helped him prepare a little party.

아버지와 동생은 어머니 선물을 사러 나갔고 저는 요리를 만들었습니다.

Father and my sibling went out to buy Mother a present, and I did the cooking.

얼마 후 어머니께서 오셨습니다. 드디어 식사 시간이 되어 가족이 모두 식탁 앞에 앉았습니다.

A while later Mother came home. Dinner time came at last and the whole family sat down at the table.

그때 아버지께서 "미안해. 이제부터 달라질게."라고 말씀하시면서 선물을 주니까 어머니께서는 눈을 흘기면서 좋아하셨습니다. 우리는 모두 크게 웃었습니다.

Then Father said, "I'm sorry. I'll be different from now on," and handed over the present — and Mother gave him a sidelong look, pleased all the same. We all burst out laughing.

Questions

1) 라흐만 씨가 고향 집에 갔을 때 가족에게 무슨 일이 있었습니까?

What had happened in the family when Rahman got home?

2) 아버지의 직업은 무엇입니까? 또 성격은 어떻습니까?

What is his father's job? And what is he like?

3) 윗글의 내용과 같으면 ○, 다르면 X 하세요.

Mark ○ if it matches the passage, X if not.

① 라흐만 씨 가족은 보통 조용한 편이다.

X — the house is usually noisy

② 라흐만 씨 아버지와 동생은 어머니 선물을 샀다.

○ — they went out to buy it

③ 라흐만 씨는 밖에 나가는 대신에 저녁 식사를 준비했다.

○ — he cooked instead of going out

④ 라흐만 씨는 부모님 결혼기념일에 같이 저녁 식사를 했다.

X — the meal was the day after

Watch the honorifics come and go. The father and mother take 시 throughout — 계십니다, 오셨습니다, 말씀하시면서 — while the writer and the younger sibling do not. Korean marks respect for people talked about, not only people talked to, and family elders always get it in a written account like this.

눈을 흘기다 is a small masterpiece of a phrase: to shoot someone a sideways look. Paired here with 좋아하셨습니다, it says she was pleased and not quite ready to admit it. Statement ③ is the trap in the exercise — it uses this chapter's 대신에 to describe the cooking, and you have to notice the passage says he stayed in while the others went shopping.

단점 is where -는 대신에 earns its place. A weakness stated bare sounds like an apology; 시간이 오래 걸리는 대신에 실수가 없어요 turns it into a trade-off. That sentence pattern is exactly what a Korean job interview expects when it asks about your 단점.

You can also use -어지다 to show you have moved on: 예전에는 덜렁거렸지만 요즘은 많이 꼼꼼해졌어요. A weakness you have worked on reads far better than one you merely own up to.

자신의 성격을 잘 알면 직업을 선택할 때 도움이 된다.

Knowing your own personality well helps when you come to choose a job.

워크넷(www.work.go.kr)에서는 다양한 성격 검사를 통해 자신에게 맞는 직업을 찾아볼 수 있다.

On WorkNet (www.work.go.kr) you can take a range of personality tests and look up the jobs that suit you.

이에 따르면 사람의 성격은 현실형(R), 탐구형(I), 예술형(A), 사회형(S), 진취형(E), 관습형(C)의 여섯 가지 유형으로 나눌 수 있다.

By its reckoning, personality falls into six types: Realistic (R), Investigative (I), Artistic (A), Social (S), Enterprising (E) and Conventional (C).

현실형(R)은 분명하고 질서 있는 것을 좋아한다. 이 유형의 사람은 현실적이고 신중하며 솔직하지만 고집이 센 편이다.

The Realistic type (R) likes things clear and orderly. People of this type are practical, careful and straightforward, though rather stubborn.

기술자, 농부, 군인, 경찰, 운동선수 등의 직업과 어울린다.

It suits work such as engineer, farmer, soldier, police officer or athlete.

탐구형(I)은 관찰과 지적인 활동을 좋아한다. 이 유형의 사람은 분석적이고 독립적이지만 내성적인 편이다.

The Investigative type (I) likes observation and work of the mind. People of this type are analytical and independent, but on the reserved side.

학자, 분석가 등의 직업과 어울린다.

It suits work such as scholar or analyst.

이런 방식으로 하여 예술형(A), 사회형(S), 진취형(E), 관습형(C)도 각각의 성격 특징과 그에 맞는 직업군이 워크넷에 나와 있다.

In the same way, WorkNet sets out the traits of the Artistic (A), Social (S), Enterprising (E) and Conventional (C) types along with the families of jobs that fit them.

자신의 성격에 맞는 직업이 무엇인지를 알아보고자 한다면 워크넷을 참고하는 것도 의미가 있을 듯하다.

If you want to find out which jobs match your character, it seems well worth consulting WorkNet.

WorkNet is run by the Ministry of Employment and Labour, and the tests are free and open to foreign residents. It is worth knowing about for a practical reason beyond this page: the same site carries the government job listings and the vacancy database that employment centres work from.

This passage is written in the plain style — 된다, 좋아한다, 어울린다 — the register of textbooks, newspapers and reports. It is not rude; it simply addresses no one in particular. Every 문화와 정보 reading in the book uses it, so read these pages as your training in written Korean.

The six types are Holland's codes, used worldwide, so the English names above are the standard ones. Note how each Korean name is built: 현실 reality, 탐구 inquiry, 예술 art, 사회 society, 진취 enterprise, 관습 convention — each plus 형, 'type'. That 형 turns up everywhere: 혈액형 blood type, A형 type A.

Learn these in their opposing pairs rather than one by one — 외향적/내성적, 적극적/소극적, 꼼꼼하다/덜렁거리다, 다정하다/무뚝뚝하다, 느긋하다/급하다. Korean conversation about character runs on those pairs, and knowing only one half of one leaves you unable to answer the question you were asked.

Almost every adjective on this list will take -어지다 and become a story about change: 급해졌어요, 꼼꼼해졌어요, 활발해졌어요. That is the sentence this chapter is really teaching you to build, and it is the one you will use whenever anyone asks how living in Korea has altered you.
